

KORO SUN RESORT

Uncovering Fiji's best-kept secret!

Koro Sun Resort is a little piece of paradise, a four-star resort situated on the Northern island of Vanyua Levu, on what was once a coconut plantation in Fiji. Koro Sun has long been a luxurious escape for Americans, Japanese and other cultures – but has been kept a little hidden secret when it comes to Aussie travellers. Until recent times that is. Australian travel agents have now become aware of this under-discovered gem of the Fiji islands and are touting it to our sun-loving tourists. Upon arriving at Nadi Airport, it's just a short hop across to Vanu Levu Island with Pacific Sun Airlines. There, at Savusavu, paradise awaits – that is if your idea of paradise is a holiday with sun, sand and surf in an unspoiled island location. Koro Sun resort boasts a sprawling 150 acre idyllic oasis, with a beautiful and decadently luxurious hotel. The resort offers all-inclusive packages, including gourmet meals, Fiji resort activities like golf, snorkelling, kayaking and hiking – and additional adventures like scuba diving and deep-sea fishing.

From romantic holidays and unforgettable honeymoons to family vacations, the Koro Sun Resort and Rainforest Spa offers something for everyone. And it's the Australians Koro has their eyes set on attracting. "We have tended to concentrate a lot of our marketing efforts in North America, hence why we have become such a popular destination for travellers from that part of the world," says Koro sales and marketing manager Merlyn Young. "However, since increasing our marketing efforts in Australia, we have been inundated with Aussies who have wanted to experience something new in Fiji! Savusavu is the Hidden Paradise and Koro Sun is a best kept secret for those who want to experience the real Fiji. Whilst many Australians have enjoyed holidaying on Fiji's Coral Coast, I think our resort's popularity is a result of its luxurious remoteness and surprising affordability."

Young says those Aussie guests who visit the resort are surprised at how affordable a four-star getaway can be. It's been voted in the Top 10 Best South Pacific Family Holiday resorts and Koro Sun has become even better known to Australians after being featured on Channel Nine's Getaway. For those holidaymakers looking to combine low airfares from Australia to Fiji with affordable accommodation rates – Koro Sun is the perfect sun-drenched exotic island locale for an island vacation.
